2023

About this report

PRI reporting is the largest global reporting project on responsible investment. It was developed with investors, for investors.

PRI signatories are required to report publicly on their responsible investment activities each year. In turn, they receive a number of outputs, including a public and private Transparency Report.

The public Transparency Reports, which are produced using signatories' reported information, provide accountability and support signatories to have internal discussions about their practices and to discuss these with their clients, beneficiaries, and other stakeholders.

This public Transparency Report is an export of the signatory's responses to the PRI Reporting Framework during the 2023 reporting period. It includes the signatory's responses to core indicators, as well as responses to plus indicators that the signatory has agreed to make public.

In response to signatory feedback, the PRI has not summarised signatories' responses – the information in this document is presented exactly as it was reported.

For each of the indicators in this document, all options selected by the signatory are presented, including links and qualitative responses. In some indicators, all applicable options are included for additional context.

Responsible investment definitions

Within the PRI Reporting Framework Glossary, we provide definitions for key terms to guide reporting on responsible investment practices in the Reporting Framework. These definitions may differ from those used or proposed by other authorities and regulatory bodies due to evolving industry perspectives and changing legislative landscapes. Users of this report should be aware of these variations, as they may impact interpretations of the information provided.

Data accuracy

This document presents information reported directly by signatories in the 2023 reporting cycle. This information has not been audited by the PRI or any other party acting on its behalf. While this information is believed to be reliable, no representations or warranties are made as to the accuracy of the information presented.

SENIOR LEADERSHIP STATEMENT

SENIOR LEADERSHIP STATEMENT

SLS 1	CORE	N/A	N/A	PUBLIC	Senior Leadership Statement	GENERAL

Section 1. Our commitment

- Why does your organisation engage in responsible investment?
- What is your organisation's overall approach to responsible investment, and what major responsible investment commitment(s) have you made?

We believe companies that take into consideration, disclose and address critical Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) issues tend to be more attractive long-term investments as this mindset allows the investment manager the ability to better identify quality companies. ESG factors are therefore an important component of our fundamental investment analysis, and by taking an active approach to integrating ESG factors into our decision-making process, we are improving the fundamental analysis process, and by consequence, increasing our understanding of a company's opportunities & risks. Ultimately, we believe that ESG analysis is value additive for our clients' portfolios.

As long-term investors in our portfolio companies, we commit to developing an open-minded, constructive, and fact-based engagement with our investment portfolio companies, their senior management teams, and in some cases, the board of directors.

Below is our stewardship policy and how it is to be implemented, including how and when the policy can be overruled.

- We endeavour to communicate regularly with our portfolio companies' senior decision-makers;
- We always have candid discussions with our investment portfolio companies where we can express the opinions we develop after following and comparing companies over many years as a long-term fundamental long-only investor;
- We actively and independently vote our proxies utilizing our inhouse research and perspectives. Our voting decisions take into consideration of the specific environmental, social and governance factors captured in our ESG Assessment profile for that company. Our process is not 'check-box' or 'cookie cutter'. We seek to evaluate each company based on its circumstances;
- With any ESG factor/issue, we seek first to understand the importance of the issue, and understand the company's position. Depending on our view of the importance of the ESG factor/issue, we'll selectively engage management when we believe our time and engagement can have a positive impact. This engagement activity is based on the sector, industry, region and impact. We then discuss our viewpoint and possible recommendations for a firm's ESG principles and governance; and
- Our PRI commitment is upheld, but can also be overruled, by the firm's executive committee.

When we engage with our investment portfolio companies, we attempt to structure these conversations in a constructive, cooperative manner in which we show the benefits of a "win-win" outcome at improving ESG governance for shareholders and other stakeholders. We believe a collaborative approach always trumps public activism. Our engagement approach can take many forms:

- We can engage with management & the board of directors where we aim to provide a well thought out perspective on strategy, governance and other matters that can positively impact the company;
- We can opine and engage with financial regulators on matters relevant to ESG integration, stewardship, and disclosure;
- We can (selectively) collaborate and engage with clients and/or peers to drive corporate change either for a company or an industry; and
- We can offer feedback on ESG consideration prior an annual proxy vote where these matters typically receive shareholder input (i.e., executive compensation).

Our engagement activities will be led by the investment team, with consideration for input and feedback from our entire Responsible Investing Committee, to ensure alignment with the firm's position on sustainable finance and our commitment to the PRI. Engagements with our companies will be tracked and reported by the analyst/portfolio manager responsible for the initial interaction, and this activity will be included in our quarterly ESG Report which is disseminated across the investment teams.

We continue to commit to working with our portfolio investment companies in a cooperative manner and to applying the principles of the PRI appropriately for the benefit our investment process. We believe that the identification of quality companies (with ESG helping to identify quality and risk), and engagement with our portfolio investment companies ultimately drives greater value for our client's portfolios with better fundamental outcomes for all stakeholders.

Section 2. Annual overview

- Discuss your organisation's progress during the reporting year on the responsible investment issue you consider most relevant or material to your organisation or its assets.
- Reflect on your performance with respect to your organisation's responsible investment objectives and targets during the reporting year. Details might include, for example, outlining your single most important achievement or describing your general progress on topics such as the following (where applicable):
  - refinement of ESG analysis and incorporation
  - stewardship activities with investees and/or with policymakers
  - collaborative engagements
  - attainment of responsible investment certifications and/or awards

During the reporting year, the firm's responsible investment policy was updated to better align our commitment with the Paris Agreement.

We also enhanced our stewardship policy to incorporate escalation procedures for engagements which lacked a response or action by the portfolio company.

During the reporting year, we proactively commented to the regulator on National Instrument 51-107 in relation to Canadian issuers' disclosure of climate-related matters, specifically requiring issuers to disclose Scope 1 and 2 emissions and relying on the GHG Protocol's standard calculation methodology for those figures. Our comments are available publicly via the Ontario Securities Commission website.

Section 3. Next steps

- What specific steps has your organisation outlined to advance your commitment to responsible investment in the next two years?

We are looking at several aspects to advance our firm's commitment including our firm's carbon footprint. Responsible investment is an ongoing process that requires dedication and consistent efforts, and our Responsible Investment committee continues to find ways to advance our commitment.

Elaborate:

Companies that effectively address Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) issues tend to be more attractive long-term investments. ESG factors are therefore an important component of our fundamental investment analysis, and by taking an active approach to integrating ESG factors into our decision-making process, we are improving risk management for our clients' portfolios. Climate change is a fact that cannot be denied and FGP supports The Paris Agreement's goal to limit global warming to well below 2, preferably to 1.5 degrees Celsius, compared to pre-industrial levels. We participate in this transition by looking for sustainability outcomes at the company level, usually the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions

Has your organisation identified climate-related risks and opportunities affecting your investments?

☒ (A) Yes, within our standard planning horizon

Specify the risks and opportunities identified and your relevant standard planning horizon:

Our standard holding period is 5 to 10 years and this is taking into consideration for the planning horizon. Our ESG assessment reports contain issues we deem material for the company's sector, including initiatives to address environmental asset liabilities (e.g., asset decommissioning), emissions, recycling efforts, water conservation, and energy efficiency.

☒ (B) Yes, beyond our standard planning horizon

Specify the risks and opportunities identified and your relevant standard planning horizon:

FGP supports The Paris Agreement's goal to limit global warming to well below 2, preferably to 1.5 degrees Celsius, compared to pre-industrial levels. We participate in this transition by looking for sustainability outcomes at the company level, usually the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions.

Describe how climate-related risks and opportunities have affected or are expected to affect your investment strategy, financial planning and (if relevant) products:

We attempt to take inventory of the most important ESG factors and determine how this will impact a company over the short and long-term. Some factors are material today (e.g., carbon tax), other factors may have gradual impacts over a long period of time (e.g., oil demand).

Does your organisation have a process to identify, assess, and manage the climate-related risks (potentially) affecting your investments?

- ☒ (A) Yes, we have a process to identify and assess climate-related risks
  - (1) Describe your process

Our investment process incorporates our ESG assessment which captures all E, S and G factors that we need to focus on for that investment. While factors will differ for each sector, all research reports contain material issues for the company's sector and includes historical data alongside current figures. This assessment report is updated annually and would be updated with factors that could appear. We look at whether companies have policies and initiatives to address environmental asset liabilities (e.g., asset decommissioning), emissions, recycling efforts, water conservation, and energy efficiency. We also encourage companies to quantify their aspirational targets to ensure that management teams can be measured and evaluated (i.e., carbon intensity per unit of production).

- (2) Describe how this process is integrated into your overall risk management

FGP recognizes the importance of ESG indicators and risk factors in the management of its portfolios. We take ESG factors (amongst a broad measure of investment criteria) into consideration when evaluating a company for inclusion in a portfolio or for a company already in our portfolio. We believe that having a clear understanding of these risk factors helps ensure that our investments will be sustainable for the long term. We incorporate these considerations as one component of our comprehensive and proprietary Investment Grade Rating (IGR) that we prepare when considering a security for purchase in our portfolio and for the purposes of sizing our portfolio holdings. ESG considerations can influence the weight of an investment as a result of an Investment Grade Rating (IGR) change which could lead to a position being implicitly increased or decreased. IGR changes (up/down) reflect changes in risk, which incorporate ESG. Our IGR places constraints on the maximum weight an investment can have in the portfolio: from 8% (when IGR = 1) down to 2% (when IGR = 5).
